ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, I would like to express my greatest gratitude to Allah SWT, the Almighty, for all the blessing given to me during the accomplishment of my final project.

I would like to express my gratitude to Mrs. Intan Permata Hapsari, M.Pd., my advisor, for all guidance and suggestions during the completion of this final project. Her advice has been great value to this final project. I further wish to extend my special thanks to all the lecturers of English Department of Semarang State University for the very valuable lessons during my college.

I also would like to thank to the headmaster of SMA N 1 Bawang, Drs. Edi Setyawan, M.M. for his permission and assistance to do this research in his school and surely I would like to thank to the English teacher of SMA N 1 Bawang, Tien Ekasanti S.Pd. in managing the class properly and to the students of X Social 1 year of 2014/2015 who were willing to cooperate in this research.

My deepest gratitude also goes to my beloved family; my parents, Drs. Jamhari and Risti Ariyani, thanks for the great love they give to me that makes me alive. My beloved grandmother Arsinah, my younger sister Adlina Alin Aulia, and my younger brother Aryan Alfa Arindra. Their prayers make me stronger.

Finally, I realize that this final project is still far from being perfect. Hence, critics and suggestions are expected in making this final project better. I have a great expectation that my study will be beneficial and give contribution for English Department and others.

ABSTRACT

Aini, Aldila Arin. 2015. The Use of Running Dictation Technique to Improve Students’ Writing Ability in Descriptive Text (An Action Research of the Tenth Graders of SMAN 1 Bawang Banjarnegara in the Academic Year 2014-2015). A Final Project. English Department, Faculty of Languages and Arts, Semarang State University. First Advisor: Intan Permata Hapsari, S.Pd., M.Pd.

Key Words: action research, descriptive, running dictation technique, writing.

Writing tends to be a difficult subject for most of Indonesian students. This problem was also faced by XI Social 1 students of SMAN 1 Bawang-Banjarnegara as the subject of this study. The students’ writing achievement was categorized as poor.

The objectives of this study are to find out students’ responses in writing descriptive text using running dictation technique and to find out how running dictation technique improve the students’ writing ability of descriptive text. The technique used in this study was task-based teaching that referred to running dictation technique to teach written descriptive text, whereas I divided into two cycles. During the activities, I observed the students in the form of teacher’s interview sheets and students’ observation sheet, pre-assessment, and individual test in the end of both cycles. For the teaching procedure of running dictation technique, it was conducted in six writing steps namely assessing the assignment, generating ideas, exploring ideas, organizing ideas, writing a first draft, rewriting and writing the final draft.

The observation results show that most of the students are witnessed to improve their writing ability. There are four tests that are divided into pre-assessment, cycle 1, cycle 2 and post-test. The mean of pre-assessment’s score is 70.96 of the maximum score 100. After being treated by using running dictation technique in cycle 1, the mean of the score goes up to 78.41. After reflecting and conducting the cycle 2, the students’ average score improve again into 81.27. Finally, the students get the best score in post-test. It is 86.20. The comparison between the average scores indicate the improvement of students’ writing ability of descriptive text. In teacher interview sheet 2 shows that the running dictation technique motivates the students to encourage the students to write as before in the teacher interview sheet 1 shows that the students get difficulty to write. It also supported by the result of the questionnaire that the students are being helped by applying running dictation in writing descriptive text. The conclusion drawn from the study is that running dictation technique gives good contribution to improve the writing ability of X Social 1 students of SMAN 1 Bawang-Banjarnegara in academic year 2014/2015.

CHAPTER I
INTRODUCTION

This chapter presents introduction which contains of background of the study, reasons for choosing topic, research questions, objectives of the study, and significance of the study.

1.1 Background of the Study

Writing is one of four English skills besides listening, speaking, and reading. Writing is about expressing our ideas into sentence or paragraph. However, it needs ability to express those ideas. In writing our ideas, we need sentence patterns, such as, simple present tense, simple past tense, passive voice, and we also must use correct punctuation, such as using capital letter in the first sentence then using full stop in the end of sentence, using commas when we mention much kind of things, etc.

Broadman and Frydenberg (2002: 11) state, “Good writers think, plan, write a draft, think, rewrite, think, and rewrite until they are satisfied”. They also add that writing is a continuous process of thinking and organizing, rethinking and reorganizing. Good writers go through six basic steps. Each step can be repeated as many times as necessary. The six steps are assessing the assignment, generating ideas, organizing ideas, writing the first draft, rewriting, and writing the final draft.
That is why writing might be considered as the most difficult skill for the students in every grade because there are many steps in writing process and students have to find their ideas to start their product; think about what to write, how to elaborate it, then arrange those ideas into some phrases to become a good writing project.

Cimcoz (1999: 1) states, “Students have not been taught to make their ideas flow on paper. They do not know how to write, feel stupid when they cannot find the right words, fear criticism and want to avoid the emotional turmoil experienced when faced with a topic and a blank piece of paper.”

If the students always write what they want to write without the teacher asks them, their writing skill will improve well. So writing is also about a habit. We can differentiate between students who love writing and they do not. The students who love writing can make some paragraphs of a text well. Their sentences are grammatical, their ideas are meaningful, and every sentence in each paragraphs are quite creative. But, the students who do not love writing that much will get lack of ideas when they try to write in a blank of a paper. That is why, they have grammatical error, their sentences are not accurate, and they just can make at least one or two paragraphs.

However, in teaching writing to students, teachers must be optimistic that students can improve their writing ability if each student has a will to study and try to write and it must be continuously. Therefore, teachers have to do an interesting teaching learning process in class to get attention from their students and give motivation to write.
Brown (2001: 334) states that learning writing is just like learning to swim. Learning to swim can only be practiced if there is a body of water available and usually only if someone teaches too. People learn writing if they are member of a literate society and usually only if someone teaches too. If someone wants to be able to swim, he cannot just master the theories to swim, but he has to get into the water to practice and apply the theories on ourselves. Same in writing, if someone wants to make a good writing, he cannot just focus on the theories, but instead he must plunge into the real writing world where he would practically involved in writing.

From the statement above, in the context of educational level, we can see the importance of teaching writing. Since writing is such a must in education, a form of communication and a necessary in teaching and learning process, so I try to use an interesting technique to improve students’ writing skill. The technique is called “Running Dictation”.

Running Dictation is a fun technique that can be adapted in a number of ways and it is fairly easy to prepare, explain, set up, plus it is very adaptable. This technique can be one way to teach students in writing descriptive text. Meanwhile, descriptive text is a text which tells particular persons, things, or places. To create the descriptive text, our imagination and visualization must work because we need to describe particular persons, things, or places in specific ways. Therefore, running dictation can be used to help students to create descriptive texts.
Creating descriptive text as one of the genres can help students to develop their ability in writing, especially in transferring their minds, ideas, or opinions into a written form that will make the students become accustomed to developing sentences into a good paragraph. However, the most difficult problem faced by the students of SMAN 1 Bawang is getting lack of ideas when they try to write paragraphs. The English teacher of that school states that actually the students’ ability to get ideas or opinions and to develop paragraphs is low. It also means that they get difficulty in developing their own ideas into written language. Therefore, if she gives them a writing assignment, they just do it in groups and their writing results are same one and another. Their grammar and punctuation are also incorrect.

Because of the difficulty faced by the students at grade ten of SMAN 1 Bawang in writing English, I focus my research on the use of running dictation in improving the students’ ability in writing, especially in writing descriptive text. Descriptive text writing is writing that describes a person, a place, an idea, an organization, or an activity. I think descriptive text is an interesting text because it describes particular things or persons using our own ideas. We use our imagination to create a descriptive text. To avoid students’ boredom in teaching and learning process of writing and to help students generating their ideas, especially in writing descriptive text, running dictation technique can be the simplest one to get students’ intention of creating their ideas into paragraph as this technique is done by dictating some words.
sentences, or paragraphs to students and the teacher will then ask them to rewrite or retell what they have heard by their own words.

1.2 Reasons for Choosing the Topic

Some reasons why I choose “The Use of Running Dictation Technique to Improve Students’ Writing in Descriptive Text” are as the following:

(1) There are many difficulties in writing faced by students, such as having trouble when they have to start writing, lacking the ideas or examples when writing, and having not enough time to finish the essay.

(2) Writing skill is useful not only for learning English but also for writing in other languages. However, in writing the students often get difficulties in what they are going to write.

(3) Writing is the most difficult skill to master because it involves three other skills such as listening, speaking, and reading, all knowledge of the writers, a lot of practices, and a good motivation to be able to write well.

(4) Descriptive text is an interesting text because it describes particular things, persons, places, organizations, or activities that need students’ ability to use their brainstorming to express their ideas and descriptions of their particular things. Therefore, by creating a descriptive text, students can improve their ability in writing. Without realizing, they have applied six steps of writing, such as assessing the assignment, generating ideas, organizing ideas, writing the first draft, rewriting, and writing the final draft. Each step can help students to develop paragraphs.

(5) Running Dictation is a fun technique to improve students’ writing ability. This technique is also done of six writing steps from assessing the assignment, generating ideas, organizing ideas, writing the first draft, rewriting, and writing the final draft. Those six steps will be more interesting and easily to practice with this technique.

1.3 Research Questions

Based on the background presented above, I want to find out how running dictation improves students’ writing skill in descriptive text. Due to that reason, this study attempts to provide the answers of the following questions:

(1) How does running dictation technique improve students’ writing ability of descriptive text?

(2) How is the students’ response in writing descriptive text using running dictation technique?

1.4 Objectives of the Study

The objectives of the study are:

(1) to find out how running dictation technique improves the students’ writing ability of descriptive text, and

(2) to find out students’ responses in writing descriptive text using running dictation technique.
1.5 Significance of the Study

The results of the study are expected to give the following benefits:

(1) For the students, writing descriptive text using running dictation technique will hopefully influence their responses toward English lesson especially in writing descriptive text.

(2) For the teachers, it will hopefully give them a better way in teaching writing descriptive text for their students by using running dictation technique.

(3) For the writer, by conducting this study, I can practice using running dictation to teach writing descriptive text.

(4) For the readers, it will be good reference for readers who concern about modern technique in teaching writing, especially descriptive text.

1.6 Outline of the Study

This study is divided into five chapters and systemized as follows:

Chapter I shows the background of the study, reasons for choosing the topic, statements of the problem, objectives of the study, significances of the study, and outline of the study.

Chapter II provides the review of related literature. It describes the theories used in developing the study. It involves review of previous studies and review of theoretical background which contains writing, teaching writing, the teacher in teaching writing, integrated-skill approach, English text type, and narrative text. The last part of Chapter II is the framework of analysis.

Chapter III concerns in the method of investigation. It gives the description of the research design, the detail of the research, the subject of the study, the role of the researcher, instruments of the study, procedure of collecting the data, procedure of data analysis, and scoring criteria.

Chapter IV shows the data analysis and discussion.

Chapter V provides conclusion of the study. It consists of conclusions and suggestions.
CHAPTER II
REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

This chapter is divided into previous of the studies, writing, steps of writing, teaching writing, running dictation technique, descriptive text, classroom action research, and framework of the study. This chapter mainly discusses some information related to the topic of the study quoted or explained from many sources.

2.1 Review of Previous Studies

Review of the previous studies consists of some researches which have similar topic. They can be used as references in this study. There are some previous studies related with the application of Running Dictation technique in the area of language learning. The descriptions of the previous research findings are as the following:

Rahayu (2009) conducted a research entitle “Dictogloss in Teaching Writing Descriptive Text to the Tenth Graders.” This study shows that students get better in creating descriptive text writing after dictogloss, the similar technique to running dictation, has been applied, as before they get lack of ideas and vocabulary.

The other research was conducted by Wati (2013) entitled “Efektivitas Pendekatan Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) melalui Running Dictation untuk Meningkatkan Hasil Belajar dan Ketrampilan Berkomunikasi..."
This study shows that running dictation can improve students’ speaking ability in communicating during teaching and learning process because running dictation is such a fun activity so the students can avoid their boredom during class.

The next previous study that has been done is entitled Mengembangkan Listening Skill melalui Running Dictation by Widayanto (2005). This study shows that running dictation can improve students’ soft skill such as cooperating, discipline, responsibility, leadership, integrity, etc. Beside that, running dictation also can improve students’ skill in listening because running dictation is done by dictating some sentences from one student to other students.

Based on previous studies above, it can be concluded that running dictation is such a fun activity that makes students enjoy during teaching learning process. Because there has been not a study about running dictation technique to teach writing in descriptive text yet, I try to conduct it since descriptive text is an interesting text to improve students’ ability in writing and running dictation technique will help them in generating ideas.

2.2 Review of Theoretical Background

The following will discuss writing including its definition and steps; teaching writing; Descriptive Text; and Running Dictation technique.
2.2.1 Writing

There are various definitions of writing as the most difficult skill from all English language skills. Beside that, there are some steps in writing that teachers have to master to teach the students.

2.2.1.1 Writing Definition

There are various definitions of writing are presented by some experts. According to Martin (1985: 1), “Writing is process to translate experience and thought into arbitrary system. It means that, to write well, we must have experience and we must be able to express our ideas into sentences or paragraphs.”

The definition above is also supported by another expert. According to Meyers (2005:2), “Writing is speaking to others on paper or on a computer screen. Writing is partly a talent, but it is mostly a skill, and like any skill, it improves with practice. It is the skill of writer to communicate information to a reader or group of readers. As a process, writing is an action of discovering and organizing ideas, transferring them into words, putting them on paper, reshaping and revising them.”

Based on all statements above, I can conclude that writing is an activity to tell our ideas and thought about something in written form by our productive skill in writing. In other words, writing has to be coherent and cohesive where the ideas in the writing should make sense and be connected logically.

Moreover, writing nowadays becomes an important skill to face the global era. It conveys that writing is used widely in every aspect of life, particularly for interacting and communicating with people, whether formal or informal writing.
2.2.1.2 Steps of Writing

According to Boardman and Frydenberg (2002: 11-30), good writers think, plan, write a draft, think, rewrite, think, and rewrite until they are satisfied. Writing is a continuous process of thinking and organizing, rethinking and reorganizing. Good writers go through six basic steps. Each step can be repeated as many times as necessary. The six steps are:

2.2.1.2.1 Assessing the Assignment

Every college or university class is going to have writing assignments with different purposes, so the first step in the writing process is to understand exactly what the professor wants on a particular assignment. Another important is to know the source of information. The source of information should be ideas, knowledge, and thoughts.

2.2.1.2.2 Generating Ideas

The purpose of this step is to think a certain topic and generate as many ideas as possible. There are many ways to do this; two of the most effective are brainstorming and freewriting.

- Brainstorming

The purpose of brainstorming is to think about and write down a lot of ideas. It can be done individually or in groups. And it is important to note all the ideas. This is not the time to evaluate how good or bad they are.
Freewriting

Freewriting is similar to brainstorming. It is started with a word or a phrase and writes down anything that is related to the topic. The most important aspect of freewriting is not to allow stopping writing.

2.2.1.2.3 Organizing Ideas

Two methods to organize are topic outline and tree diagrams.

Topic Outline

One way to organize ideas is to outline the points. To write a topic outline, we first have to decide what the main idea of the paragraph is. We should write that ideas as a sentence or just a few words on the top of paper. All we need are a few words that will help us remember what is going to write. Like brainstorming and freewriting, an outline is just for us, not for anybody else.

Tree Diagram

Some people prefer a more visual kind of outline format called tree diagram. We start with the main idea and then make branches to points that support the ideas.

2.2.1.2.4 Writing a First Draft

Once we have our ideas generated and an organizational pattern to follow, we can write our first draft. Good writers should make sure to read their writing carefully in order to make changes and corrections before they consider it finished.

2.2.1.2.5 Rewriting

Rewriting is the one of the steps in writing process that is very crucial because it has been constructed by all aspects of writing such as ideas, vocabulary, punctuation, grammar, style, and quality of expression in a completing paragraph.

Rewriting consists of two separate processes: revising and editing

- Revising

  Revising is the first part of the rewriting. We may start revising as soon as we finish writing, or, better yet, set our paragraph aside for a while and go back to it later.

- Editing

  The other aspect of rewriting is editing. When we edit, we check to make sure the spelling, capitalization, punctuation, vocabulary, and grammar are correct. Editing is somewhat mechanical because we are basically following rules. Becoming a better writer is a process of combining these two aspects of rewriting in order to best communicate what we want the readers to understand.

2.2.1.2.6 Writing the Final Draft

Writing the final draft is the last step in writing process. Keep in mind that any of the steps can be repeated at any time. Do not forget to write our final draft using paragraph format. Be sure to add a title.

Students have to apply the six steps of writing to get a better product in writing. The six steps of writing above help students and the other writers to write well because those steps are started from collecting ideas to create the ideas become paragraphs. Therefore, the emphasis is on the process of writing rather than the finished product. If the students can collect their ideas or what they have thought and move those ideas into a piece of paper, it means that they are able to finish their writing project. It goes without saying that their writing skill has been improved well because writing is not only about high skill, but it is also about a lot practices.

Each writing step above help students to improve their writing skill especially in writing descriptive text, as the definition of descriptive text is a text which describes particular persons, things, or places in specific ways.

In assessing the assignment, students have to collect their ideas or their thought to transform in written form when they try to create a descriptive text. They have to understand well about the given topic in order to make the appropriate ideas.

If the students have had their ideas in their mind, they have to generate their ideas as many as possible they can. To make it easier, the students can use free writing or brainstorming based on their favourite. The students should not think if their writing is correct or false. As long as they can generate their ideas, it means that their writing ability has improved step by step.

After generating ideas, the students have to organize the ideas in order to decide which the main idea is. The students can use topic outline or tree diagram. But, many students choose to use tree diagram because for them it is easier.

In writing a first draft, all the ideas which have been generated and organized transform into written form. The students should do correction in order to make sure that their writing is good enough. They can change their writing project if they think there are some mistakes.
The students have to revise and edit their writing project. After writing a first draft, they know the mistakes they have made. The students revise the paragraph in order to make the paragraph is better and edit the punctuation, vocabulary, grammar, spelling and capitalization.

The last step that the students have to apply is writing a final draft. The students have tried to improve their writing skill by applying the steps. Without they realize, their writing project become better if they apply those steps continuously. In writing a final draft, there should not be mistake. Therefore, the students have to revise and edit correctly.

2.2.2 Teaching Writing

The psycholinguist Lenneberg (1967) once noted on a discussion of “species specific” human behavior, that human being universally learn to walk and to talk, but that swimming and writing are culturally specific, learned behaviors. We learn to write if we are members of a literacy society and usually only if someone teaches us. Just as there are non-swimmers, poor swimmers, and excellent swimmers, so it is for writers.

If we give levels for many writers, so there will be low level, medium level, and high level. Those who have lack of ideas and a lot of grammatical error are low level. Then, the medium level is those who can create paragraph well and the content is logical. Their grammatical and sentences structures are good enough.
Trends in the teaching of writing in ESL and other foreign language have, not surprisingly, coincided with those of the teaching of other skills. We will recall from earlier chapters that as communicative language teaching gathered momentum in the 1980s, teachers learned more and more about how to teach fluency, not just accuracy, how to use authentic texts and contexts in the classroom, how to focus on the purpose of linguistics communication, and how to capitalize on learners’ intrinsic motives to learn. Those same trends and the principles that undergirded them also applied to advances in the teaching of writing in second language contexts. Over the past few decades of research on teaching writing to second language learners, a number of issues have appeared, some of which remain controversial in spite of reams of data second language writing. (Brown, 2000: 334)

When the teachers give materials about writing, the teachers at least create a brainstorming to students in order to help them organizing and generating ideas. Therefore the students have no difficulty when they create a text. The teachers have to give them about the topic which is related to the materials that day. Beside that, the teachers have to explain about grammar, such as simple present tense, conditional sentence, passive voice, command, etc in order to avoid mistakes of students’ writing. It is also better to remind the students in using correct punctuation, capital letter, and vocabulary.
2.3 Descriptive Text

Descriptive text is a text which describes something such as persons, places, or thing. The purpose of this text is to describe something looks like. It has two parts of generic structure; they are identification and description. There must be participants and must use present tense, action verbs, and adjectives.

2.3.1 General Concept of Descriptive Text

Descriptive text is a text which describes particular persons, things, or places in specific way. Therefore, our visualization is needed. To create this text, our imagination must flow on a paper.

Kane (2000: 352) states, “Descriptive text is description about sensory experience –how something looks, sounds, tastes. Mostly, it is about visual experience, but description also deals with other kinds of perception. The purpose of descriptive text is to describe and reveal a particular person, place, or thing in detail or specific to make the readers be able to visualize the description”. It can be concluded that descriptive text is used to describe everything which is seen by writer in detail.

According to Emilia (2010: 103), “Descriptive text is a text which is intended to describe a particular person, place or thing”. The schematic structure of Descriptive text is divided into two: Identification and Description. Besides schematic structure, descriptive text also has its own linguistic features. Linguistic features of descriptive text are: use specific participant, written in present tense, use linking verbs, use adjectives, use relational and material processes.
Therefore, the most important thing to create a descriptive text is on how we transfer our ideas in my mind into a piece of paper. Our ability to develop sentences by sentences become paragraphs is needed and we have to have high potential in developing the paragraphs so that the content of the paragraph is logical. It also has benefit to avoid misunderstanding for readers. A good descriptive text can make the readers also imagine what particular things, persons, or places that are being described to the writer.

2.3.2 Generic Structure of Descriptive Text

When we are creating a descriptive text, there is generic structure which makes our writing is true. Identification and description are the generic structure of descriptive text.

According to Pardiyono (2007: 34), “Descriptive text has generic structure as follows:

(1) Identification: a part of paragraph of description text which tells a topic and characters that would be described.

(2) Description: a part of paragraph of description text which tells the content of describing the particular persons, places or things.

2.3.3 Language Features of Descriptive Text

Gerot and Wignell (1994: 28) state, “Descriptive text has language features consist of identifying process, classical nominal groups, using simple present tense, using specific nouns, using detail noun phrase to give information about the subject, various adjectives functioning to describe, relating verbs to give information about the subject, action verbs, adverbial to give additional information, and figurative language skill.”

Language feature of descriptive text is focused on what type of sentence is used. From all kinds of sentences in English language such as simple present tense, simple future tense, simple past tense, simple past future, etc, the simple present is one that is being used in descriptive text. Language feature in this text type is also about what kind of verb that is being used. From all kinds of verbs such as mental verb, behavior verb, mental verb, action verb, etc, action verb is the one that is being used in descriptive text. Adjectives and specific participants are also taken part in this descriptive text.

(1) Using Simple Present
It is used to describe an action that is regular, true or normal. Tense which is often used is Simple Present Tense. However, some times it uses Past tense if the things are described does not exist anymore.

For example;
(1) Paris is one of the beautiful cities in the world.
(2) I and my friends usually go to school at seven o’clock in the morning by bus.
(3) The hotel provides 320 rooms and a swimming pool. etc.

(2) Using Adjectives
An adjective is a word that describes, identifies, modifies, or quantifies something (a noun or a pronoun). It can be a single word, a phrase, or a clause. It is to make clearer nouns.

For example; a beautiful kind lady, the famous places in Semarang, those ancient books, etc.

(3) Using Action Verbs

Action verbs are verbs that specifically describe what the subject of the sentence is doing. This type of verb tells about information in a sentence and can convey emotion and a sense of purpose that extends beyond the literal meanings of the words.

For examples; run, eat, write, drink, draw, etc.

(4) Specific participant

Specific participant tells about object in specific details that is going to be described. It can be particular persons, things or places that are being described in detail and specific ways.

For examples; my college, his father, Marina Beach, Prambanan Temple, Uncle Sam, etc

2.3.4 General Purpose of Descriptive Text

The purpose of writing description is to describe a person, place, or thing in such vivid detail that the reader can easily form a precise mental picture of what is being written about, or can feel that they are part of the experience (Kang Guru 2005).

Stanley (1988: 124) asserts that the aim of description is to convey to the reader what something looks like. Furthermore, Johnston & Morrow (1981: 59) state that the purpose of descriptive text is to describe objects or persons in which the writer is interested.

Therefore, we have to know well what is being described because descriptive text aims to make the readers imagine what the content of the text without being affected by the writers’ personal opinion. By reading a descriptive text, readers feel that they see the description just like they see pictures.

2.4 Running Dictation

Running Dictation is an amazing technique which involves all of English skill from listening, speaking, reading and writing. Running dictation is the one of technique besides dictogloss and both of them are including dictation method. Although dictation method is seen as an old technique by other people, but both techniques are quite amazing to apply in class.

Running Dictation is a multi-skill task involving listening, speaking, reading, and writing. It is easily to prepare and practice.

Below are the pictures of steps of doing running dictation.

(1) Putting some copies of text on the wall, whiteboard or blackboard which are available in the classroom.
The Students are Divided into Groups

(http://teachingrecipes.com/tag/activity)

(2) Students are divided into some groups. It depends on how many students in the classroom are. For example, if the students are about 40, so there will be eight groups which each group consists of five persons. But, if the students are less than 40, there should be less than eight groups which each groups still consists of five persons. It will be interesting too if each groups consists of more or less five persons. Therefore, the sum of groups and members of each group depend on how many students are in the class.

(3) Each student in a group will be a writer and the others will be runners.
(4) First runner has to run and read the copy of the text on the wall. He has to remember what he has read. If he has remembered what he has read, he comes back to his group and tells to the writer about what he read. The writer must write it correctly.

(5) The second takes turn to do the same activity that first runner has done before. The other runners also do it. After all of groups have finished, each student of groups takes the original text and do correction about their working.

2.4.1 Running Dictation to Teach Written Descriptive Text

Running Dictation is a technique of dictation method that can be used for teaching writing cooperatively. From the teacher’s point of view, dictations can be done with any level, depending on the text used, graded for multi-level class, and usually require very little preparation and photocopying.

Instead of the standard formula of the teacher dictating the text, there are a number of ways of taking the focus off the teacher and onto the students themselves. Using running dictation to teach written descriptive text can avoid boredom for students because the technique help the students to brainstorm, elaborate paragraphs, and finish final draft.
As usual, running dictation is done just in particular ways. The students are divided into some groups in which each group has a writer and some runners. Some runners have to read some sentences of text on the wall in turn and tell what they read to the writer. After all runners have done their job and the writer also finishes in writing the text which have been dictated by some runners, each student has to rewrite the text by their own words.

2.4.2 The Characteristics of Running Dictation Technique

Running Dictation is an easy and fun technique which is suitable for any levels where there must be a writer and runner. Therefore, at least this is simply done in pairs. The runner has to dictate what he has read to the writer and the writer has to write correctly what he heard from the runner. If the content of the text is long enough, this technique can be simply done in groups.

Running dictation is such a technique that has been applied in many teaching learning processes and it has been successful to prove that the interesting technique can improve students’ ability in materials skill which is given by teachers or educators.

Therefore running dictation has a lot of benefits, such as:

(1) Improving students’ skill in memorizing.

(2) Improving students’ skill in writing.

(3) Improving students’ skill in cooperating with their group.

(4) Improving students’ skill in listening.
(5) Improving students’ skill in speaking, especially in spelling some sentences.
(6) Improving students’ skill in communicating.
(7) Improving students’ skill in reading comprehension.
(8) Improving students’ creativity during teaching learning process.

2.4.3 Procedure of Running Dictation Technique

Running dictation can be done in various ways. But, in general, it can be done by the following steps;

(1) Prepare some copies of text based on the groups in the class. For example, if there are five groups, do prepare five copies of text.
(2) Put the copies of the text on the wall.
(3) Give a role to students as a writer and the others are runners in every group.
(4) First runner has to run to the wall and read some sentences on the text. He has to remember what they have read before comes back to his group and tell to the writer about what they have read.
(5) After the first runner tells about some sentences he has read to the writer, then the second runner takes turn. Third runner and next runners also do same activity.
(6) In the end of doing this technique, every group must do correction between their writing and the original text.
(7) Students are asked to create their own text based on their version.
2.5 Classroom Action Research

Elliot (1991: 69) states that Action Research is a process through which teachers collaborate in evaluating their practice, try out new strategies, and record their work in a form that is understandable by other teachers.

According to Burns (2003: 32), there are four steps in conducting an action research. Those four steps are (1) planning, (2) acting, (3) observing, and (4) reflecting. All the steps are applied in the research with the arrangement as shown by the following figure.

(Elliott, 1991: 25)
2.5.1 The Procedure of Cycle 1

- Planning
  Planning phase learns establish clear goals and objectives. Interview is doing before teaching leaning process. Therefore, it is involved the process of interview and designing lesson plan using running dictation technique as the learning technique in order to improve students’ writing ability, especially in writing descriptive text.
- Acting
  In this phase, the treatment of implementing running dictation technique in writing descriptive text is given to the students. The researcher chooses a descriptive text to be taught as the example.
- Observing
  This phase is done during the acting phase. When the students have completed their job, the researcher observes the students’ work.
- Reflecting
  Cycle 1 reflection is done outside the learning process. It is based on the writer’s notes, students’ work and from some documentation. The reflection result will be used to improve learning activity of Cycle 2.

2.5.2 The Procedure of Cycle 2

Cycle 2 is the continuation and evaluation of Cycle 1. The main purpose is to correct the mistakes that may have happened in the previous cycle in order to achieve the objectives of this study. The procedure of this cycle is similar to the previous cycle.

- Planning
  The planning in Cycle 2 is still the same with the one in Cycle 1 with an emphasis on any correction made during Cycle 1 reflection phase.

- Acting
  The action phase of Cycle 2 is implemented almost the same as procedure in Cycle 1. The difference is on the way the writer treats the students with lower mark. Those students are given more attention than others. It is aimed to find out their personal difficulty or the reasons why they cannot be as the other students who have achieved higher score.

- Observing
  The observation process is to see whether students’ achievement will get better after using running dictation or just in average or even can be down before they practice running dictation technique.

- Reflecting
  All notes, instruments, students’ work, and documentation are analyzed together in the reflection phase of Cycle 2. The correction in this cycle is only noted for further research at another time and for the English teacher to improve the technique in the next learning activities.

It can be concluded that classroom action research is a cyclical process including planning, acting, observing, and reflecting. The cyclical of action research provides teachers with ongoing opportunities to reflect on and refine their own teaching practices.

2.6 Framework of the Study

Below is the research design plan diagram for the study of running dictation technique to improve students’ writing in descriptive text.
The first phase of the diagram shows the step of preliminary interview and observation that is conducted to see how the problem exists. The next step is conducting the research. It includes collecting data from pre-assessment and both two cycles. Four steps of action research are conducted in cycle 1 and cycle 2 where the treatment of using running dictation technique in the learning process is implemented. The data collected from the previous step is analyzed in data analysis phase to get the result and its interpretation. Both result and the interpretation are used to draw conclusions and make suggestions.
CHAPTER III
METHODS OF INVESTIGATION

To carry out this study, I use an Action Research as a part of Qualitative Research. This point presents research design, population and sample, variables, instruments for collecting data, procedures of collecting data, and procedures of analyzing data.

3.1 Research Design

In this study, Classroom Action Research is used. It is conducted to see the improvement of students’ writing ability of descriptive text using running dictation in the learning process. A qualitative "approach" is a general way of thinking about conducting qualitative research. Classroom Action Research illustrates the sequence of teaching and learning process. One ‘action’ or one ‘cycle’ indicates a group of events needed to be conducted before managing another ‘action’ or ‘cycle’. The previous study reflection is needed as the correction to prepare the next action.

Conducting action research provides educators with an avenue to reflect on one's own teaching practices and engage in self-directed learning, with the ultimate goal of improving student learning. In order to reach optimal learning, teachers must continuously build upon their knowledge of student learning and intentionally study the instructional practices they are implementing in the classroom (Rawlinson & Little, 2004: 24). Therefore, classroom action research is applied to get students’ motivation process become well to get the best result.
while they are studying and also in the end of study, they get good manner in studying.

By using classroom action research in this study, I intend to determine what and how this research is conducted. It aims to see the result and to explain in detail way how running dictation technique improves students’ writing skill in descriptive text.

In classroom action research there are four steps in each cycle. Those four steps are planning, acting, observing and reflecting. In this research, there are two cycles which is conducted after pre-assessment test and before post-cycle test.

Planning is the first step in classroom action research which is conducted to prepare all the things in the research. I have to know the condition of the class, the given materials, and the students’ behavior before I conduct the research. I have to know what the instruments which is used to conduct the planning step in this classroom action research.

After that, there is acting step after planning has finished conducting. In acting step, I complete the instruments in order to conduct this acting step. Therefore, acting is about doing action to conduct research by completing the given instruments.

Meanwhile, observing is the step which is conducted after planning and acting. It aims to see the students’ improvement in each cycle, students positive behavior during teaching learning process in the classroom, and how the students’ responses about the given materials.
The last step in classroom action research is reflecting. Reflecting is doing correction after those three steps above have been done in order to make the better result in the next cycle. Therefore, the improvement of the students can be seen.

3.2 Population and Sample

Population is a group of phenomena that has something in common. It is member of defined group which is used to collect data and information. Meanwhile, sample consists only of observation drawn from the population. It is a smaller group of population selected to represent the population.

3.2.1 Population

According to Fraenkel and Wallen (2009: 91), in educational research, the population of interest is usually a group of persons (students, teachers, or other individuals) who possess certain characteristics. In some cases, however, the population may be defined as a group of classrooms, school, or even facilities.

The population in this study is the students of SMAN 1 Bawang Banjarnegara at grade ten in academic year of 2014/2015.

3.2.2 Sample

In conducting my research, I used purposive sampling. According to Fraenkel and Wallen (2009: 99), “Purposive sampling is different from convenience sampling in that researchers do not simply study whoever is available but rather use their judgment to select that they believe, based on prior information, will provide the data they need.”

In this study, because purposive sampling was used, I was helped by the English teacher of tenth-grade in SMAN 1 Bawang to decide which classes to be my subjects. Based on our discussion, X Social 1 was chosen. X Social 1 is a large class with diligent students, but they have low ability in English especially in writing. That is why we chose the class to conduct my research.

3.3 Instruments of the Study

Instruments of the study were used to help and find out students’ improvement. The instruments were teacher’s interview sheet 1, observation sheet, rubric of assessment, pre-assessment test, lesson plan, post-cycle test, questionnaire, and teacher’s interview sheet 2.

3.3.1 Teacher’s Interview Sheet 1

Teacher’s interview sheet is the result of interview with the teacher. There were two types of teacher’s interview sheets. The first type was Teacher’s Interview Sheet 1. It was used before conducting the research to see if the problem existed or not. (see appendix 12, page 139)

There were fourteen questions in teacher’s interview sheet 1. Those questions were about descriptive text, students’ ability and responses in writing descriptive text by using running dictation technique. This interview was done before conducting pre-assessment test, cycle 1, cycle 2 and post-cycle test. The purpose of doing interview with the teacher was to know about students’ ability especially in writing skill. Therefore, I could analyze how to conduct the research based on the interview.

3.3.2 Observation Sheet

Observation sheet contains of the result of observation during the teaching learning process in classroom. (see appendix 7-11, page 133-137)

This instrument was used to observe how each individual contribute in the teaching and learning activity. The indicators observed were the students’:

1. attention during the learning activity,
2. response to the material,
3. activeness in the learning activity,
4. enthusiasm in doing the assignments and classroom tasks.

Each indicator has 1-5 score, whereas 5 is the highest score and 1 is the lowest score.

3.3.3 Pre-assessment Test

Pre-assessment test is a test that is conducted before the students are given the materials. Pre-assessment was given to the students before the treatment. Its purpose is to measure the initial students’ ability in writing descriptive text. Below is the example of the pre-assessment.
3.3.4 Post-cycle Test

Post-cycle test is a test that is conducted after the students are given the materials. The post-cycle test was used to measure the students’ writing ability of narrative text after the given treatment. The instruction was given in the beginning of the lesson since the writing process was started as the lesson began. There are two types of assignments. First, it is a group work and the rest is an individual work. In group work, the students had to make groups and did the given task based on the instructions. It is similar with the cycle 1 and cycle 2 assessments. The difference is just about the text.
3.3.5 Lesson Plan

Lesson plan is a form to prepare what the material is being learned in classroom. It was made before the teacher gave materials to the students. Therefore, the teacher had to make lesson plans to get interesting teaching learning process. (see appendix 1-2, page 76-103)

There are two lesson plans for each cycle and both lesson plans are the same. The difference is on the main activity. In cycle 1, the students did the task immediately. Meanwhile, in cycle 2, I explained the materials before the students did the tasks in order to improve students’ understanding in writing descriptive text. Therefore, the results in cycle 2 and post-cycle test could be increased from the results of cycle 1 and pre-assessment test.

3.3.6 Questionnaire

The questionnaire consists of some questions that should be answered by respondents (the tenth graders of SMAN 1 Bawang-Banjarnegara) to gain information about the subject. There are eight questions which consist of two options in each number. The students could choose option “Ya” or “Tidak” based on their opinion about those questions. The students’ answers are crucial to declare if running dictation technique could improve students’ ability in writing descriptive text. (see samples students of questionnaire on page 248)

3.3.7 Rubric of Assessment

Rubric of assessment is a form to check students’ ability in teaching learning process by indicating some points of view below.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Writing Component</th>
<th>Score</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Title, Introduction, Body, and Conclusion</td>
<td>1-20</td>
<td>Appropriate title and effective paragraphs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Logical development of ideas and Content</td>
<td>1-20</td>
<td>The ideas are concrete and thoroughly developed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grammar</td>
<td>1-20</td>
<td>Correct grammar to avoid miss communication between writer and readers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Punctuation and Spelling</td>
<td>1-20</td>
<td>Correct in using English writing convention; correct punctuation, correct margins, and correct spelling.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Style and Quality of Expression</td>
<td>1-20</td>
<td>Good vocabulary, attempts variety, precise expression of ideas.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Table 3.1 Analytic Scale for Rating Composition Task
(Brown and Bailey (1984) in Brown, 2004: 244-5)
The highest score of each component is 20 and the lowest is 1. As it is composed from five criteria, the maximum writing score is 100. The analytic scale above is appropriate for students in Senior High School because they still learn about developing paragraphs using their own quality style expression besides using correct grammatical, punctuation and spelling to avoid misunderstanding to readers.

If the students get score 1-5, it means that their ability in each writing component based on the table above are very low. They have to learn much more about writing. They have to learn about how to use correct punctuation, vocabulary, grammar, capital letter, etc in order to avoid mistakes while they create or write a text. They also have difficulty when they elaborate their ideas become a good paragraph in creating a text.

Meanwhile, if the students get score 6-10, it means that their ability in each writing component based on the table above are low. They know about the using of grammar, punctuation, capital letter, vocabulary and how to elaborate paragraph about their ideas became a good text but they still have difficulty to practice it. Therefore, they need much practice in order to make their writing become better.

Then, if the students get score 11-15, it means that their ability in writing is good enough but they need a lot practice to improve their ability in writing become well. Sometimes, they make mistakes in using punctuation, vocabulary and grammar. Although they can elaborate their ideas become a good paragraph, but sometimes their ideas are not accurate and appropriate based on the given topic.

If the students score 16-20, their writing ability is very good. They can write well from elaborate their ideas become good paragraph in creating a text to use correct punctuation, grammar and vocabulary. Their ideas are also accurate and appropriate with the given topic. They just do some little mistakes just because they are not too carefully in using punctuation or vocabulary.

3.3.8 Teacher Interview Sheet 2

The second teacher’s interview sheet was used to find out how the English teacher’s responses about the students that had been taught by using running dictation technique for improving their written descriptive text. (see appendix 14, page 144)

There are nine questions about teacher’s opinion after running dictation had applied in teaching writing descriptive text such as such as students’ responses toward this technique, the effectiveness running dictation technique to teach other subjects, the differences teaching writing descriptive text by using running dictation technique and conventional method.

3.4 Procedures of Collecting Data

The data collection is conducted through the following instruments:
(1) Interview

The interview is addressed to the English teacher and the students. The purpose of this interview is to gain information about teaching and learning process by using teacher interview sheets in English classroom.

(2) Questionnaire

Questionnaire is a form containing a set of questions and submitted to people to gain statistical information. The purpose of the questionnaire is to collect information from this study.

(3) Observation

Observation aims to analyze each student’s behavior in classroom during teaching learning process.

(4) Test

The test was conducted four times. The first was the pre-assessment. The other two tests were conducted while the running dictation was applying in the class and the last was conducted to check students’ understanding in writing descriptive text by using running dictation. The entire test is in the form of writing performance.

a. Pre-test

Pre-test is done before the students are given the materials.

b. Post-test

Post-test is done after the students are given the materials.
3.5 Procedures of Data Analysis

Since there were four instruments of collecting the data, there were also four steps of data analysis. The analysis of each instrument is described as follows:

3.5.1 Interview

The data from interviewing the English teacher and the students was converted into written form. This data was paraphrased to make it easier to be understood.

At the first interview, before running dictation technique was applied in teaching writing descriptive text, the teacher said that in the odd term descriptive text had not been taught yet; the students still learned simple present tense and past tense. It was all about introduction materials. The students’ ability in writing was actually good enough, but sometimes when the teacher tried to dictate them some sentences, they did few mistakes while they rewrite it. Their mistakes are such as error in grammatical, punctuation, auxiliary, pronunciation, and vocabulary. The students were also easy to get bored when the teacher gave them assignments. That is why there should be another technique to motivate the students in writing.

Then, at the second interview, after running dictation technique had been applied in teaching writing descriptive text, the teacher said that although it was the first time for the students to apply running dictation in teaching writing descriptive text, they were enthusiastic because this technique was done in group work before they did individual assignments. Therefore, the teacher would try to use running dictation technique to teach her students in some subjects.
3.5.2 Questionnaire

The data was collected from the students’ opinion about running dictation technique in teaching writing descriptive text. They had to answer “yes or no” to the given questions.

3.5.3 Classroom Observation

The main purpose of the classroom observation was to see whether or not the problem existed and monitor students’ improvement in responding the material given in the learning activities. As stated in the explanation above, the first classroom observation was held before conducting the treatment. The data from this observation was in form of notes that would be analyzed to decide whether or not the class was proper enough to conduct teaching and learning writing descriptive text by using running dictation technique.

The second classroom observation data in the previous cycle which was in the form of checklist data and some notes would also be analyzed to see if the action phase of the cycle conducted lack of something then later to decide better treatment in the next cycle.

3.5.4 Test

The test was used to see the students’ result of the learning process. Students’ work would be evaluated using scoring criteria offered by Brown and Bailey (1984) then would be counted to find the average grade for each test. The differences between average grade of pre-assessment, cycle 1, cycle 2 and post test were then used to determine students’ improvement on writing descriptive text.
CHAPTER V
CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter briefly discusses the conclusions and the suggestions about the result of the study which has been reported in the previous chapter.

5.1 Conclusions

Based on the data analysis in the previous chapter, the conclusions of the study can be drawn as follows:

(1) The descriptive writing achievement of the tenth year students of SMAN I Bawang-Banjarnegara in the academic year of 2014/2015 improves after they have been taught by using running dictation technique. It was proven by the data shown. The mean or the average score of students’ writing achievement in the pre-assessment was 70.96. It improved to 78.41 in the first cycle and 81.27 in the second cycle. The students also got better result in post-cycle test. It was 86.20.

The running dictation technique motivates the students to have wider ideas to write their descriptive text. By asking the students to do the task in groups, they enjoyed to finish the given tasks together. They also did better in individual task when they tried to develop their paragraph. Although their writing components were still not good enough, their writing’s result increased from pre-assessment test to post cycle test. Their antusisam when they apply running dictation technique in classroom activity during teaching learning process are also quite good based on the results of the students’ observation sheet that showed mostly the students got point 3-5 which means they had high antusiasm. It was also supported by the results of the teacher interview sheet 1 and teacher interview sheet 2. As mentioned in teacher interview sheet 1 that the students got difficulty in writing especially when they try to make a paragraph, but then in teacher interview sheet 2 showed that the students got a lot of motivation during classroom activity and it could improve their writing ability, especially in writing descriptive text. In the result of the questionnaire also showed that running dictation technique could help them in writing and they enjoy to apply that technique in writing descriptive text.

(2) The students got positive behaviour in writing descriptive text after applying running dictation technique. They could cooperate with their group and be more confident and active while they did group task and invidual task during teaching learning process. Beside that, running dictation technique can avoid boredom and it is not monotonous instead of helping the students generate their ideas.

5.2 Suggestions

Referring to the analysis and the conclusions above, some suggestions offered are as follows:
(1) The English teachers should be well prepared and have a good time management to get better result in using running dictation technique to teach writing.

(2) The English teachers should pay their attentions to the whole class to make sure that all students understand the materials well.

(3) Review is an important session that should be conducted by the English teachers by the end of the teaching and learning activities in order to see the students’ understanding of the given materials.

TEACHER’S INTERVIEW’S SHEET
Name: Tien Eskananti, S. Pd.
NIP: 197511272003122004
Place of Interview: SMAN 1 Bawang, Banjarnegara
Date and Time: December 13, 2015 at 1.30 p.m

1. Question: “Did the students feel happy and enjoy when they were studying writing descriptive text using running dictation technique?”
   Answer: “Yes, they did. The students feel so much happy when they were applying running dictation technique in writing descriptive text. They really enjoyed the class.”

2. Question: “Was there any difficulty when the students were applying this technique?”
   Answer: “Yes, there was some students had difficulty in applying running dictation technique because they had not been usually practice this fun technique. But after they applied this technique, they had positive behavior in classroom activity such as could cooperate with their groups and discipline in doing task individually.

3. Question: “What is your opinion about running dictation?”
   Answer: “I think running dictation is a fun technique to apply in classroom activity because it can avoid boredom in teaching learning process. I also think that it can be applied in other subjects after see that the students got better result in writing descriptive text by applying running dictation technique.

4. Question: “Give your comment about using running dictation in teaching writing descriptive text.”
Answer: “I think running dictation technique is good enough to teach students about writing descriptive text since the technique can help students to avoid boredom, get brainstorm, elaborate paragraphs, and finish final draft. Beside that, running dictation technique can improve students’ confident and cooperation.

5. Question: “Is there any differences between teaching descriptive text using running dictation technique and conventional method?”
Answer: “Yes, there is. When I taught students by using usual method, seems like most of the students got sleepy and the rest were talking each other. But, after I observed students to apply running dictation technique in writing descriptive text, the students got more confident and enthusiast of teaching learning process that day. They really enjoyed classroom activity when they applied this fun technique. That is why I can conclude that running dictation technique can be used in other subjects.

6. Question: “Is this technique effective to teach other subjects?”
Answer: “As I mentioned before, running dictation could be used in other subjects because students got more confident and enthusiast so they could avoid boredom in classroom activity.

7. Question: “What do you think about students’ responses of this technique?”
Answer: “The students’ responses were quite interesting while they wrote descriptive text by using this technique. They became more confident, enthusiast and really enjoyed classroom activity that days. Therefore, the teaching learning process could have done well and the students also could have done the tasks very well by understanding the given materials.”
8. Question: “Do you think the students become more motivated in learning after applying running dictation technique? How do you know?”

Answer: “Yes, I do. I think the students become more motivated in teaching learning process after applying running dictation technique because basically, running dictation technique is fun technique that the students must move their seats to run so they do not have to sit all the time. That is why the students become more motivated in teaching learning process after applying running dictation technique.

9. Question: “Will you use running dictation technique to teach your students after this?”

Answer: “Yes, I will. I will use running dictation technique after this but not all the time when I teach students. Just in some meetings because this technique needs extra time.
